London College of Music

The London College of Music (LCM) is one of the largest specialist Music and Performing Arts institutes in the UK. It has a long history of music education dating back to 1887, when it was situated in Great Marlborough Street, London, where the college began as an examination body. In 1991 LCM became part of Thames Valley University, which was renamed the University of West London in 2011.

The London College of Music offers an impressive range of innovative courses, respected worldwide and delivered with creativity and passion by practising industry experts. Courses include Performance and Composition, Popular Music Performance and Recording, Performing Arts, Music Management, Music Technology and Theatre Production.

Further information about full-time programmes for undergraduate and postgraduate students, in addition to the Junior College, is available from:

London College of Music Examinations

External examinations have been awarded by the London College of Music since the institution's founding in 1887. Today, examinations are held throughout the United Kingdom, Republic of Ireland and at many overseas centres, and are unique in the graded examinations world in being awarded by a university.

LCM's graded and diploma examinations in most subjects are regulated by Ofqual (formerly the Qualifications and Curriculum Authority, QCA), which serves as a UK governmental stamp of approval and quality assurance, confirming parity of standards with other similar examinations boards. Furthermore, the resulting mapping of LCM Examinations onto the RQF (Regulated Qualifications Framework) means that candidates applying to UK universities through the UCAS system can increase their points tariff if they have been awarded a Pass or higher at Grades 6–8 in regulated subjects.

LCM Examinations are distinctive, both in the qualifications offered and in the administration and running of the exams. We have retained the well-known traditional atmosphere and qualities of the London College of Music: informality, friendliness and approachability, although set in a fully professional and modern context. We are small enough that enquiries to the head office can be dealt with speedily and efficiently, and we are able to get to know many of our representatives and teachers personally by name. Examiners pride themselves on being friendly and approachable, ensuring candidates are put at their ease and are thus able to perform to their full potential; yet they are professional, applying thorough and objective assessment criteria in forming their judgements.

Our range of syllabuses and exam formats is exceptionally wide. Examinations may be taken in piano, all orchestral instruments, classical singing, music theatre, popular music vocals, guitar, electronic keyboard, electronic organ, drum kit, percussion, church music, Irish and Scottish traditional music, jazz (piano, wind and brass), ensemble, early learning, theory (both classical and popular) and composition. Examinations in acoustic, rock, electric and bass guitars are offered in partnership with the Registry of Guitar Tutors (RGT). Our diplomas are internationally recognised and include composition, conducting, thesis and theoretical diplomas as well as performing and teaching diplomas in all instruments, across four levels.

We offer a number of pre-Grade 1 Step exams. Graded exams include a viva voce element, which encourages candidates to think, both technically and critically, about the music they perform in the exam. Syllabuses contain a wide range of repertoire options, sometimes including an own choice element. We offer the very popular Leisure Play option, where candidates perform three pieces plus a fourth own choice, but do not attempt any of the additional components of the exam. Recent additions to our range of exam formats include Recital Grades (a performance-only alternative to standard graded exams) and Performance Awards (assessed via DVD submission).

Graded and diploma syllabuses are available free of charge from LCM Examinations and from local representatives.

1. Syllabus introduction

1.1 Coverage of this syllabus

This London College of Music Examinations syllabus is designed to prepare students for the Ensemble Examinations and Ensemble Performance Awards awarded by University of West London Qualifications.

1.2 Validity of this syllabus

This syllabus is valid from 1 January 2018 until 31 December 2022.

1.3 Rationale

LCM's graded and diploma qualifications make a distinctive contribution to education in and through music, drama and communication, because of the emphasis placed upon the following combination of characteristics:

- creative thinking;
- practical skills either independent of literacy, or related to it;
- encouragement to think, both technically and critically, about the repertoire performed in practical examinations;
- a distinctively broad stylistic range, as reflected in tasks, endorsements and repertoire;
- the provision of assessment in areas not traditionally included within the scope of graded examinations;
- a strong emphasis towards the acquisition and demonstration of skills and understandings that are of contemporary relevance to the performing arts.

In the standards set, in structure, and organisation, LCM's graded and diploma qualifications are broadly comparable with those of other awarding bodies offering qualifications in music and drama. However, these syllabuses offer the opportunity to develop pathways into learning that both complement and provide genuine alternatives to the study of the arts within school, FE and HE curricula, and within the context of life-long learning. Because of this, they are capable of being used to extend and enrich full-time education and individual tuition and offer alternative routes that enable teachers to achieve the objective of equipping young people and adults with highly relevant creative, expressive and technological concepts and skills.

1.4 Syllabus aims

A course of study based on LCM's graded and diploma syllabuses is intended to provide:

- a progressive and unified assessment system, enabling candidates to plan and obtain an effective education in and through the arts;
- skills of organisation, planning, problem-solving and communication, through the study of the arts in performance and theory;
- enhanced ability in acquiring the personal disciplines and motivation necessary for life-long learning;
- an enduring love, enjoyment and understanding of the performing arts, from the perspective of both participants and audience;
- an assessment system equipping candidates with added-value to enhance career routes, educational opportunities and decision-making.

1.5 Syllabus objectives

A course of study based on this syllabus is intended to provide:

- candidates with a range of performance skills, particularly with respect to ensemble awareness;
- opportunities for learning and assessment that are both creatively challenging and technologically relevant;
- opportunities for mastery learning that are structured and directly related to the repertoire published for each grade;
- candidates with the basis for study and practice to develop relevant and usable skills and concepts.

1.6 Availability of examinations and entry details

Practical examinations take place throughout the year according to location. In the UK and Ireland, practical examinations are held three times a year at public centres: Spring (March/April), Summer (June/July) and Winter (November/December). The dates when each year's sessions begin and end are published in the preceding Autumn. Completed entry forms, together with full fees, must be submitted to the representative of the chosen examination centre on or before the closing date, as listed on entry forms. The representative is responsible for devising the timetable.

In addition, LCM conducts examinations at schools, colleges and teaching studios on a private centre basis, provided the practical grade entries total at least five hours' examining time, and any venue-related costs are covered by the applicant. The co-ordinating teacher is responsible for timetabling the examination day. Some flexibility is possible, and teachers are invited to telephone LCM Examinations on 020 8231 2364 to discuss the arrangements in advance.

Performance Awards: please refer to Section 6.2, Entry details.

1.7 Duration of examinations

2. Syllabus content

2.1 Syllabus overview

This London College of Music Examinations syllabus is designed to prepare students for the Ensemble Examinations in Music Performance awarded by University of West London Qualifications. It provides a structured approach which enables students to master progressively the understanding, knowledge and skills necessary to perform as part of an ensemble and to develop capability both as a performer and as informed listener. Information and advice is given on the selection of suitable repertoire for each of the levels of examination. The syllabus clearly describes what is expected and how the achievements of the candidate are to be assessed, so that students can be taught to master the requirements and to perform these in a practical examination. Examinations are conducted by trained external examiners and are held at approved centres in the UK and overseas.

Grateful thanks are due to Andrew McBirnie, the principal syllabus compiler.

2.2 Summary of subject content and description of examination components

These summaries should be read in conjunction with the Level descriptions (Section 2.4) and the Pass band descriptions (Section 5.1). Further information for teachers and advice on syllabus requirements is available from the Chief Examiner in Music, Philip Aldred, at the LCM Examinations office (tel: 020 8231 2364; email: philip.aldred@uwl.ac.uk).

Areas of Study

Teachers preparing candidates for LCM ensemble examinations need to ensure that students are able to demonstrate appropriate levels of mastery as described in each of the following three areas of study:

Component 1: Performance

Candidates need to be prepared to demonstrate:

1. the ability to choose and perform, as part of an ensemble, pieces of the appropriate standard for the relevant examination level, with accuracy and musicality. The principal area of study is the technical mastery of the instrument or voice, which might include fingering, breath control, tone control, articulation, intonation, tonal variety and/or consistency, accuracy, dexterity, tempo and dynamics, as appropriate;
2. increasing evidence of a sense of musicality and emerging musical personality as the examination levels progress;
3. familiarity with notation appropriate to the level, where appropriate;
4. increasing ability to communicate effectively to the listener as the levels progress;
5. the ability to be part of a cohesive group and be sensitive within an ensemble performance.

Explicit ability:

perform pieces with accuracy and musicality, as a member of an ensemble.

Implied ability:

execute, as part of an ensemble, a programme of selected pieces of music, demonstrating technical accuracy, musicality, communication, and musical knowledge, appropriate to the level (see Section 4.4, How marks are awarded).

Component 2: Presentation

Candidates need to be prepared to demonstrate:

1. awareness of appropriate platform techniques such as entering and leaving the performance area, staging, position within the ensemble, and posture;
2. disciplined and co-ordinated participation in an ensemble, including awareness of the other members;
3. awareness of the importance of the visual element of ensemble performance;

Explicit ability:

perform with attention to staging and visual presentation.

Implied ability:

execute, as part of an ensemble, a programme of selected pieces of music, demonstrating awareness of position, posture, staging, and all aspects of the visual element of performance; relate to and be aware of the contribution of other members of the ensemble, and of how the candidate's own performance fits in to the whole.

Component 3: Programme

Candidates need to be prepared to demonstrate:

competence in writing, designing, and producing an accurate and informative written programme for the performance.

Explicit ability:

produce a written programme.

Implied ability:

produce an accurate, informative, relevant and well-designed written programme, according to the requirements outlined in the syllabus.

2.3 Weightings for examination components

Component 1: Performance	Component 2: Presentation	Component 3: Programme
80 %	10 %	10 %

2.4 Level descriptions

The performance of the ensemble determines the attainment band that is awarded as a result of the examination. The level of mastery and the more general expectations of the ensemble are defined by the following level descriptions:

Steps 1 and 2 Equivalent standard: Pre-grade 1

This level is intended for groups at nursery and the first few years at junior school. They are intended to allow for musical (and instrumental) and rhythmical expression at a very basic level. Expectations are primarily to express confidence and enjoyment.

Level 1 Equivalent standard: Grades 1-2.

The musical material selected for Level 1 should be of an essentially elementary nature. Only the most basic, and hence most common, time signatures and keys are likely to be used. Melodic and rhythmic material will be predominantly simple. Indications of dynamics, articulation, phrasing and ornamentation will occur only sporadically in the music, and will be limited to the most basic types. Expectations for presentation will be limited to a basic sense of performance awareness. Technical accomplishment is a more important element of assessment than is musicality, and expectations of communication are limited.

Level 2 Equivalent standard: Grades 3-4

The musical material selected for Level 2 will be of a slightly more demanding nature. The number of keys and time signatures which may be used is increased. Melodic and rhythmic material is more complex. Indications of dynamics, articulation, phrasing and ornamentation are likely to be a more regular feature of the music, and a wider variety is likely to be used. Musicality is an increasingly important element of assessment in relation to technical accomplishment, and expectations of communication are higher.

Level 3 Equivalent standard: Grade 5

The musical material selected for Level 3 should be of a significantly more demanding nature than for Levels 1 and 2; it is the first level where some of the repertoire selected might conceivably be performed at a professional recital. The number of keys and time signatures likely to be used extends to all but the most unusual and unlikely examples. Melodic and rhythmic material may include a moderate degree of complexity. Dynamics, articulation, phrasing and ornamentation is likely to be varied and will often demand a degree of subtlety in performance. Musicality is judged to be an important element of assessment, and expectations of communication are higher.

Level 4 Equivalent standard: Grades 6-7

The musical material selected for these levels is likely to be at the technically less demanding end of the continuum of professional repertoire. The number of keys and time signatures likely to be used extends to the full range of possibilities. Melodic and rhythmic material may include a significant degree of complexity. The music is likely to include passages where dynamics, articulation, phrasing and ornamentation demand considerable dexterity and flexibility. Musicality is judged to be a significant element of the assessment, and candidates are expected to communicate with an emerging sense of musical personality.

Level 5 Equivalent standard: Grade 8

The musical material selected for this level is likely to be some way inside the continuum of professional repertoire. The number of keys and time signatures which may be used extends to the full range of possibilities; furthermore, pieces may include variations and changes of key and metre. Melodic and rhythmic material will include a significant degree of complexity. The demands of dynamics, articulation, phrasing and ornamentation will be consistent and considerable. Musicality is judged to be a highly significant element of the assessment, although a sound technical basis remains an assumed requirement. Candidates are expected to communicate with a defined sense of musical personality, and this is given a significant weighting in the assessment.

Recital Equivalent standard: DipLCM

The musical material selected for this level is likely to be of an advanced standard, comprising technical and musical challenges which are comparable to those found in diploma repertoire. The number of keys and time signatures which may be used extends to the full range of possibilities; furthermore, pieces may include variations and changes of key and metre. Melodic and rhythmic material will include a significant degree of complexity. The demands of dynamics, articulation, phrasing and ornamentation will be consistent and considerable. Musicality is judged to be a highly significant element of the assessment, although a sound technical basis remains an assumed requirement. Candidates are expected to communicate with a clear and mature sense of musical personality, and this is given a significant weighting in the assessment.

3. Examination requirements

3.1 Administrative guidelines

1. Any type of ensemble is permitted. This may include, but is not limited to: orchestras, concert bands, brass bands, string orchestras, chamber ensembles, percussion ensembles, choirs, duets, trios, jazz bands, folk groups, etc. For rock and pop bands, please see separate syllabus.
2. There are no pre-requisites for Ensemble exams; candidates may enter for any level without having taken previous examinations.
3. The minimum number of performers is two. There is no upper limit to the number of performers. However, where the number of performers exceeds ten, one steward (teacher, parent, or other competent adult) must be in attendance, to assist with good order in the exam room, for each ten candidates above the first ten. (For example, for an ensemble of 20 candidates, one steward must be in attendance; for an ensemble of 30 candidates, two stewards must be in attendance, etc.) Stewards may remain present for the entire duration of the exam, but should not take any active part in the performance.
4. Examination durations given in Section 1.7 include time for setting up and clearing away. However, where extended arrangements need to be made (e.g. for a band, choir, orchestra, or other large group), these should take place outside the scheduled exam time, e.g. before the start of the day, during a break in the schedule, and/or at the end of the day. Candidates should liaise with Centre representatives to ensure that disruption is kept to an absolute minimum.
5. Conditions at LCM public centres vary, and some examination rooms are unsuitable for large groups. Candidates planning to enter at a public centre must check with the representative in advance of entry, to ensure that the venue is suitable for their purposes. LCM Exams cannot guarantee that all public centres will be able to provide suitable examination spaces for all groups. However, sometimes it may be possible for the examiner to travel to a nearby venue as part of the regular examination session; again, candidates should liaise with Centre representatives. Private centres will of course make their own arrangements.
6. The provision of all necessary equipment, including music stands, chairs, instruments, amplification and effects equipment etc., is the responsibility of the candidates. Centre representatives will not provide additional equipment to that which is normally provided at the venue, unless by prior arrangement.
7. The name of the ensemble, in the form in which it is to be printed on the certificate, must be stated clearly on the entry form.

3.2 The performance

1. Ensembles are given a free choice of repertoire, but the musical and technical challenges of the pieces chosen should broadly comply with the guidelines given in Section 2.4 above. Where, in the examiner's opinion, the technical and musical challenges of the repertoire are significantly lower than expected for the Level, this may be commented on in the report, and may affect the marks awarded.
2. Care should be taken that the programme is varied, balanced and contrasting. There is no minimum or maximum number of pieces or movements; but the entire programme must not exceed the time allocated for the examination (see Section 1.7), including pauses between items, set-up time, and clearing away time. Examiners have the right to stop performances which exceed the allotted time.

3. Guidelines for the duration of programmes, including pauses between items but not including set-up and clearing away time, are as follows:
- | | |
|-----------------------------|---------------|
| Steps 1 and 2: | 5-10 minutes |
| Level 1: | 10-12 minutes |
| Level 2: | 12-15 minutes |
| Levels 3, 4 & 5: | 20-25 minutes |
| Recital: | 35-40 minutes |
4. Because of the flexibility of the syllabus and the wide variety of different types of ensembles for which it caters, it is not possible to give detailed guidelines about repertoire. This will vary widely between ensemble types, and might include: published works, arrangements, compositions by one or more members of the group, items which are partly or wholly improvised, and/or items which have been developed by the group in rehearsal.
5. Scores of the items played should be provided for the examiner where practical and appropriate. Even for jazz or folk-based items, a lead sheet, or copy of the lyrics, etc. is welcomed.
6. The performance forms the basis for the assessment of Components 1 (Performance) and 2 (Presentation). The expectation of performance standard varies from elementary at Level 1, to advanced at Recital level. For more information, see Section 2.4 (Level descriptions).
7. No distinction will be made between ‘teachers’ and ‘pupils’ in the ensemble. The standard of the ensemble will be assessed according to the Level being examined, regardless of the age or status of individual members of the group.
8. There is no requirement for performances to be from memory. However, in accordance with normal performance conventions, it is expected that folk and jazz items will be performed from memory. Vocal performers and choral groups are encouraged to perform from memory where practical.
9. The use of digital samplers and sequencers should be kept to an absolute minimum: it is expected that all performances should be essentially ‘live’. A brief sound check may be performed at the start of the set. Effects (reverb, echo etc.) should be used judiciously.

3.3 The written programme

1. Ensembles must provide the examiner, at the start of the examination, with a written or printed programme, setting out the pieces which are to be performed, and including programme notes. This programme is assessed in Component 3 (Programme).
2. There are no absolute requirements for the content of the written programme, and this will vary according to the type of ensemble and the repertoire performed. As basic information, the programme might indicate some or all of the following for each piece performed: composer, librettist, title, year of composition or release, number and titles of movements, album or show, etc. Some information about the ensemble itself must be included at each level (eg. when and why the ensemble was formed, how often it meets, etc).
3. At all levels, programme notes must be included, giving some background information about the music and, from Level 3 onwards, a brief analytical overview, which might cover aspects such as style, instrumentation, structure, and any other musical points of interest. The length, complexity and amount of detail will vary as the levels progress; at Level 1 this will be minimal, but at Recital level should be substantial. As a general guide, the total amount of words for the programme notes should be approximately 250 words at Level 1, 500 words at Level 3, and 2,000 words at Recital level.
4. At all levels, the presentation and design of the programme will be taken into account in awarding marks. Text-based programmes are quite acceptable; extensive artwork is not a requirement, but some candidates may wish to develop this aspect of the presentation. However, artwork should not be overly fussy, and should not affect the legibility and readability of the text.

4. Assessment

The marking scheme is comprised of a balanced structure of examination components and assessment categories. Taken together they form a matrix which enables the performance of each ensemble to be systematically assessed and marked.

4.1 Assessment objectives

During an examination candidates will be assessed on their ability to demonstrate mastery of:

Domain 1: Technical Accomplishment The extent to which the instruments or voices are effectively controlled.	Domain 2: Musicality The ability to make sensitive and musical performance decisions.
Domain 3: Musical Knowledge The synthesis of theoretical, notational and contextual knowledge.	Domain 4: Communication The degree to which the performers communicate with and engage the listener through musical performance on their instruments and/or voices.

4.2 Coverage of the assessment domains

	Technical Accomplishment	Musicality	Musical Knowledge	Communication
Performance	✓	✓	✓	✓
Presentation				✓
Programme			✓

4.3 Approximate weightings for assessment domains

	Technical Accomplishment %	Musicality %	Musical Knowledge %	Communication %
Steps 1 and 2	20	30	10	40
Levels 1-2	52	12	18	18
Levels 3-4	44	16	20	20
Level 5 and Recital	32	24	22	22

4.4 How marks are awarded during the examination

Component 1: Performance

The examiner will consider the pieces performed, and will award a mark out of 80 for this component of the examination. This mark will be subdivided at the examiner's discretion to indicate separate marks for individual pieces performed. In awarding marks, the examiner will take into account the following:

Assessment Domains	Approximate weightings
	Steps 1 and 2	Levels 1-2	Levels 3-4	Level 5 / Recital
Technical Accomplishment: the ability to manipulate the instrument or voice, as appropriate to the repertoire, with respect to accuracy, fluency, articulation, intonation, breath control, fingering, tonal variety and/or consistency, dexterity, tempo, dynamics, etc.	20 %	65 %	55 %	40 %
Musicality: the ability to make sensitive and musical performance decisions, resulting in a sense of individual interpretative skill, so that the music is performed in a manner reflecting a degree of sensitivity and empathy, musical personality and ensemble awareness; the ability to adapt to a variety of styles as may be required by the choice of repertoire.	30 %	15 %	20 %	30 %

5. Awarding and reporting

5.1 Awards of Pass, Pass with Merit or Pass with Distinction

The pass awards are differentiated by outcome. Depending on the level of mastery demonstrated during the examination performance an ensemble may be awarded either a Pass, or a Pass with Merit or a Pass with Distinction. Each award broadly corresponds with the following descriptions of achievement and requires that the candidate obtains or exceeds the minimum number of marks set as the boundary for the award.

Distinction (85-100%)

Candidates who achieve a Pass with Distinction will have offered a highly accurate, fluent and musical response. They will have demonstrated secure technical accomplishment and will have shown evidence of excellent musicality, ensemble awareness, and presentation skills. The quality of the written programme is likely to have been high. Candidates will have communicated, through performance, a sense of real engagement with, an understanding of, and at Levels 4 and above, a sense of individual personality in relation to, the repertoire.

Merit (75-84%)

Candidates who achieve a Pass with Merit will have offered an accurate, fluent and musical response. They will have demonstrated a good standard of technical accomplishment and will have shown significant evidence of musicality, ensemble awareness, and presentation skills. The quality of the written programme is likely to have been good. Candidates will have communicated, through performance, some sense of engagement with, some understanding of, and at Levels 4 and above, an emerging sense of musical personality in relation to, the repertoire.

Pass (65-74%)

Candidates who achieve a Pass will have offered a mostly accurate, fluent and musical response. They will have demonstrated an acceptable standard of technical accomplishment and will have shown some evidence of musicality, ensemble awareness, and presentation skills. The quality of the written programme is likely to have been satisfactory. Candidates will have communicated, through performance, a basic understanding of the repertoire, and ability to engage the listener.

Below pass, upper level (55-64%)

Candidates who achieve a mark in this band will have demonstrated some inaccuracy, lack of fluency, and lack of musicality. They will not have demonstrated an acceptable standard of technical accomplishment and evidence of ensemble awareness and presentation skills will be minimal. The quality of the written programme is likely to have been unsatisfactory. Candidates will have failed to communicate, through performance, a sufficient degree of understanding of the repertoire, or ability to engage the listener.

Below pass, lower level (0-54%)

Candidates who achieve a mark in this band will have demonstrated significant inaccuracy, lack of fluency, and little or no musicality. Their standard of technical accomplishment will have been judged as significantly below that required for the level of examination, and evidence of ensemble awareness and presentation skills will be low or non-existent. The quality of the written programme is likely to have been poor. Candidates will have failed to communicate, through performance, any discernible understanding of the repertoire, and they will not have succeeded in engaging the listener.

5.2 Attainment band descriptions

The guidelines below are not intended to be mutually exclusive, but should function interrelatedly. Thus for any particular attainment band, one or more criteria might exceed those specified, while one or more others might fail to meet the requirements. The specific criteria for each component of the examination are as follows:

Component 1: Performance

All levels

Distinction (85-100%) A high level of technical accomplishment, demonstrating accuracy and fluency, appropriate to the repertoire performed. Well-developed and secure tone quality, intonation, and/or articulation. Evidence of excellent musicality and interpretative ideas. A confident and assured performance. A secure understanding of musical content / notation should be evident. As the levels progress, the performance should display increasingly convincing evidence of stylistic awareness and an increasing degree of expressive qualities. A clear ability to engage the listener in the performance.	Merit (75-84%) An ability to cope well with the technical demands of the music. A good standard of tone quality, intonation and/or articulation. Evidence of appropriate musicality and interpretative ideas. A confident performance. A mostly secure understanding of musical content / notation should be evident. As the levels progress, some stylistic awareness and expression should be evident. Some ability to engage the listener in the performance.	Pass (65-74%) Fairly accurate, reasonably fluent, but occasionally hesitant. Tone quality, intonation and/or articulation of a generally acceptable standard. There is some evidence of appropriate musicality and interpretative ideas. A reasonably confident performance. Significant evidence of an understanding of musical content / notation. As the levels progress, the beginnings of stylistic awareness and expression should become apparent. A basic ability to engage the listener in the performance.
Below Pass, upper (55-64%) Some correct playing, but a degree of discontinuity in the performance, accompanied by technical inaccuracies. Tone, intonation and/or articulation need more work in order to be of an acceptable standard. Nevertheless, some signs that a sense of musicality and interpretation is potentially attainable. Evidence of an understanding of musical content / notation. Stylistic awareness and expression are unlikely to be clearly communicated.	Below Pass, lower (0-54%) There may be some correct playing, but a proportionally greater number of inaccuracies, and a lack of continuity which compromises the sense of performance. Tone and/or articulation are well below an acceptable standard. Ideas of interpretation and musicality are not clearly communicated. Some evidence, or less, of an understanding of musical content / notation. Little evidence of stylistic awareness and expression.

All levels

Distinction (85-100%) Excellent awareness of appropriate platform techniques such as entering and leaving the performance area, staging, position within the ensemble, and posture. Each candidate demonstrates disciplined and co-ordinated participation in the ensemble, including awareness of the other members. There is strong evidence that the visual element of ensemble performance has been thoroughly considered.	Merit (75-84%) Clear awareness of appropriate platform techniques such as entering and leaving the performance area, staging, position within the ensemble, and posture. Each candidate demonstrates highly competent participation in the ensemble, including awareness of the other members. There is evidence that the visual element of ensemble performance has been considered.	Pass (65-74%) Some awareness of appropriate platform techniques such as entering and leaving the performance area, staging, position within the ensemble, and posture. Each candidate demonstrates satisfactory participation in the ensemble, including awareness of the other members. There is some evidence that the visual element of ensemble performance has been considered.
---	--	---

Below Pass, upper (55-64%) Insufficient awareness of appropriate platform techniques such as entering and leaving the performance area, staging, position within the ensemble, and posture. Some candidates demonstrate less than competent participation in the ensemble, including awareness of the other members. There is limited evidence that the visual element of ensemble performance has been considered.	Below Pass, lower (0-54%) Little or no awareness of appropriate platform techniques such as entering and leaving the performance area, staging, position within the ensemble, and posture. Most or all candidates demonstrate less than competent participation in the ensemble, including awareness of the other members. There is little or no evidence that the visual element of ensemble performance has been considered.

Component 3: Programme

All levels

Distinction (85-100%) The written programme is highly competent in every respect. It is informative, accurate, relevant, well written, well designed and well presented.	Merit (75-84%) The written programme is competent in most respects. It is generally informative, accurate, relevant, well written, well designed and well presented.	Pass (65-74%) The written programme is generally competent. It is reasonably informative, accurate and relevant, and standards of literary expression, design and presentation are satisfactory.
Below Pass, upper (55-64%) The written programme is generally below standard. It is insufficiently informative, accurate or relevant, and standards of literary expression, design and presentation are unsatisfactory.	Below Pass, lower (0-54%) The written programme is well below standard. It is insufficiently informative, accurate or relevant, and standards of literary expression, design and presentation are poor.

5.3 Issue of results

A written report will be compiled for each examination. This will focus on the ensemble as a whole rather than on individual players, although where an individual contribution is particularly noteworthy, this may be commented on.

Candidates will be informed of the result of examinations as soon as possible, and not later than four weeks after the examination date, by post. Representatives are not allowed to issue results over the telephone.

Certificates for successful ensembles (achieving a Pass or higher) are normally dispatched within eight weeks of the date of the examination, but very often they will be received sooner than this. This time is necessary to ensure that all results are properly standardised and have been checked by LCM Examinations. (See Regulation 27.)

5.4 Repeats of examinations

Where an ensemble is not able to reach the minimum standard for a pass in an examination, application for re-examination at that Level is permitted, upon payment of the current entry fee. All examination components must be completed on re-examination. Marks from examination components may not be carried forward or credited.

6. Ensemble Performance Awards

6.1 Overview

Performance Awards provide a new opportunity for the assessment of musical performance, whereby candidates submit a DVD of their performance, rather than attending an examination venue. Performances are assessed by trained LCM examiners, using the same standards and criteria as are used for live exams, offering candidates a reliable and independent assessment of their performance standard, while benefitting from the flexibility allowed by the submission process.

There are six levels of examination: Level 1, Level 2, Level 3, Level 4, Level 5, Recital Level.

6.2 Entry details

Entries for Performance Awards may be submitted at any time; the standard closing dates are not applicable.

One copy of the DVD should be submitted to the LCM Examinations office (details on page 2), accompanied by the Performance Awards entry form (including declaration) and the current entry fee (as listed on the entry form).

6.3 Examination requirements

Requirements for Ensemble Performance Awards are exactly the same as the requirements for the PERFORMANCE COMPONENT of the equivalent Ensemble examination.

In addition, please note the following requirements:

1. Ensembles must supply details of the pieces they are performing (titles and composers); this information should be provided in Section 4 of the entry form. Ensembles are not required to submit scores of any pieces performed.
2. Each piece must be recorded in a single, uninterrupted take.
3. Performances must be recorded using a static camera, which should be positioned in such a way as to show the performers clearly.
4. The microphone must be of sufficient quality to allow assessment of all aspects of the performance, including tone quality, dynamic range, etc.
5. The microphone should be positioned in such a way as to ensure a good sound balance between members of the ensemble.
6. The disc must be in a format which will play on a standard DVD player. Candidates are advised to retain a copy in case of damage during transit.
7. The disc must be labelled clearly with the ensemble's name.
8. The submitted DVD will not be returned.
9. The entry form includes a declaration indicating that the performances were given by the candidates. This must be signed and dated by a member of the ensemble, and by an adult witness (who may be a teacher).

6.4 Assessment

Performances are assessed according to the same standards and criteria as for the standard Ensemble exams. Refer to the details listed under Performance in Section 4.4, How marks are awarded.

7. Regulations and information

For examination regulations, please see the Regulations and Information document on the website (lcme.uwl.ac.uk).
